INSTITUTE OF FOREST SCIENCE RAS
RAS SCIENTIFIC COUNCIL ON FOREST

FIRST CIRCULAR

Dear friends, colleagues,

Forest Research Institute of the Karelian Research Centre RAS, Institute of Forest Science RAS, and RAS Scientific Council on Forest plan to organize the 11th International Conference “Problems of Forest Phytopathology and Mycology” to be held on October 10 to 14, 2022 at the premises of the Forest Research Institute of the Karelian Research Centre RAS, Petrozavodsk. We invite you to take part in our conference.

In view of the difficult epidemic situation, the conference will be held in a hybrid offline-online format.

The volume of abstracts (with ISBN coding) will be published online by the conference opening.

Provisional themes for discussion are:

1. Taxonomy, biology and ecology of species and complexes of fungi and lichens.
2. Structure and functions of the fungal and lichen biota in forest communities.
3. Role of fungi in destruction processes and the formation of the structure of forests.
4. Distribution patterns of fungi and lichens in forests and non-forest areas and sites of various geneses and human uses.
5. Epiphytotic conditions and invasions of fungi, and solutions for restraining their harmfulness.
6. Silvicultural, chemical and biological methods for controlling the emergence and massive spreading of pathogenic fungi.
7. Timber protection against destruction by fungi.
8. Edible and medicinal fungal resources of forests.
